We recently donated masks to APSN, a non profit organization in Singapore dedicated to inclusivity, and they were kind enough to gift me artwork that was designed by their students as well as a cake which was also baked by the students.

It made me look further into their work and I'm truly inspired by what they're doing for their students and society.

I'll be doing a $10,000 donation to support their work and I encourage everyone to check out what they've been doing too!
